

Painted Wall Murals

Elgin has the great fortune to have many historic painted advertising signs that still exist and hold prominence in the downtown streetscape. Because each mural is in a different state of existence, the Historic Review Board will need to look at each mural on an individual basis prior to making any recommendation for any change to the mural.

